

An evening of discovery with Ignatian Spirituality Project

Come and learn how you can be part of a ministry of hope and healing.

Manresa is hosting an evening of discovery with representatives from Ignatian Spirituality Project (ISP) to give our community the opportunity to learn about ISP's ministry to men and women recovering from homelessness and addiction, and to appeal to those who might want to get involved in the work they do.

ISP offers hope and healing experiences through overnight retreats, spiritual reflections and one-on-one companionship. Volunteers walk with people in recovery while sharing their own experiences of hope and healing. ISP is looking particularly for men who are interested in helping to restart their men's program in the metro-Detroit area as a volunteer team member or supporter. No experience in drug or alcohol recovery or Ignatian spirituality is required, though it would be helpful.

Please come and see how you can put your faith into action by serving God and the men and women of Ignatian Spirituality Project.

Thursday, March 21, 2024
7:00-8:00 PM at Manresa

Please RSVP by March 16
